

The Forehead Game

Players

You can play with two or more players or divide into teams.

Timer

Use your kitchen timer, a phone or a watch.

Set-Up

Print out the cards below or write them on your own paper at home – you can even add some of your own words!

How to play

Decide who will go first. A quick way is to roll dice or play rock paper scissors!

Each player will have 60 seconds to guess as many cards correctly. On your turn, start the timer and pick up a card without looking at it. Hold it to your forehead so other players or your team members can see it.

The other players or your team must give you clues to help you guess what's on the card. If you guess correctly set it to the right and pick up a new card. If you want to pass on a card, set it to your left and pick up a new card. Continue guessing and picking new cards until the timer runs out.

When the timer runs out it's the second players turn and the game continues until each player has a turn. At the end of each player's turn, each player counts up the number of cards in their pile. The play or team with the most cards wins!
